FRIDAY JUNE 20, 1890.

Telegrams.

HAVAS

Paris, June 19th—The Budget Committee of the Chamber of Deputies have reported in favour of the Finance Minister's Bill for raising a loan of 700,000,000 francs and advise Parliament to pass it.

London, June 19th—The agreement between England and Germany on the East African question is based on the recognition by Germany of the English protectorate in Zanzibar, whilst, on the other hand, England cedes Heligoland, which she has held since 1807, to Germany.

Madrid, June 19th—News from the infected districts in Valencia is to the effect that the number of new cases has decreased in the last 24 hours. The sanitary conditiou of the other cities in the peninsula continues as before.

GALVESTON.

London, June 18th—Telegrams from Brussels to the Pall Mall Gazette confirm the news that Stanley has been appointed Governor of the Congo State; it is added that he will proceed to his post in 1891.

Paris, June 18th—The newspapers announce that England and Germany have arrived at an understanding on the African question.

Madrid, June 18th—Deaths from cholera have occurred in Albaide, Castille, Carthagena and Gativa; also four in Malaga. The epidemic is spreading in Valencia where suspicious deaths have taken place. It is said that yellow fever is in Malaga.

Lisbon, June 18th—The Minister of Foreign Affairs states that he has asked for explanations from Lord Salisbury with reference to the burning of a Portuguese flag on the Shire, which news is now confirmed.

Berlin, June 19th—The newspapers approve the arrangement between England and Germany on the African question and congratulate themselves on its satisfactory termination.

London, June 19th—The Morning Post approves the arrangement with Germany. The Daily News admits the value of the Zanzibar protectorate, but believes that the Conservatives will be more dissatisfied with the agreement than the Liberals. The Pall Mall Gazette characterises the cession of Heligoland as shameful, but adds, "The manner of announcing the agreement was admirably dramatic. It could not have been more abject, but Salisbury is a past master in the art of degradation. His Sedan took place on the anniversary of the battle of Waterloo." The Paris correspondent of the Daily News says that France will oppose the British protectorate in Zanzibar.

WEST COAST TELEGRAMS

Valparaiso, June 19th—The Senate yesterday by 17 to 5 resolved not to submit the Budget for next year proposed by the executive to examination and discussion until there is a Cabinet possessing the confidence of Congress.

The Chamber of Deputies resolved to nominate a committee to enquire into the economic situation which is pressing heavily upon all engaged in commerce.

The Government has authorised Sr Barros Arana, the expert to the Boundaries Commission, to obtain tenders for the construction of 50 pyramids to mark the Argentine Chilian frontier.

The Minister of Foreign Affairs has made a declaration to the effect that the Government will collect taxes and customs at all hazards and would make itself respected even against the wish of Congress. According to an opposition newspaper, the majority of the commercial firms will refuse to pay taxes because they have not been authorised by Congress.

The generals and officers of the Santiago garrison have signed a document in which they declare their adhesion to the Government and agree to receive nothing beyond their mess rations until Congress authorises the discharge of their pay.

THE LOAN.

It seems beyond doubt that the Government has concluded or is concluding the long pending negotiations for a large loan in the London and Paris markets. In fact, we may take it for granted that the loan is done, under what conditions we care not to inquire for the present, but we remain assured that, under favorable or unfavorable terms, it was an unavoidable necessity—we very nearly said an unmitigated evil to all, not excepting the Government that appealed to it as a last resource. We leave to others the ungrateful task of explaining how this loan became a painful necessity, but we offer no apology for raking up the past and its stern facts leaving to the reader the pleasure of making his own deductions.

In the beginning of 1885 the banks of issue failed to meet their engagements at a moment when the country was borne along on the crest of a wave of great prosperity. Those banks, whose precarious condition arose from the familiar and traditional abuses of all State-banking, appealed to the Government, which granted forced currency to their notes for a term of two years and exacted from the Boards of Management such guarantees as warranted hopes of a speedy return to specie payments. Those banks were pledged not to touch their gold reserves: with unpardonable leniency they were allowed to distribute half their profits, the other half going to swell their gold reserves. Those pledges were broken, the gold reserves were frittered away, and all the profits were distributed. Still, there was balm in Gilead, for in October 1886 ex-president Roca managed to hand over the reins of power to his successor with a gold premium not 10 o/o above par.

In January, 1887, the new Government, instead of forcing the Banks to return to specie payments, as stipulated by decree of January, 1885, extended the term, we may say, indefinitely, and gave the banking boards "carte blanche" to operate free from all trammels and obligations that might bind them down to any fixed policy with a view to resume specie payments. This was a crime, and the penalty is visited on the five million inhabitants of this country, to-day grovelling under the burden of an excessive cost of living and under a depreciation of currency that has reached nearly seventy per cent.

One error led to another, for when the Pacheco Free Banking Act was promulgated in December, 1887, a coach-and-four was driven through it and the country was cursed with a further inflation of the currency. From eighty millions the circulation was increased to one hundred and sixty-three millions—paper issued by the very banks, in the greater part, that had actually repudiated their notes for years! Just as the pledges of 1885 were broken and cast to the winds, just so the Pacheco Act was violated and made a tool to increase paper issues and inflate credit and speculation. The law was defied by the Banks, by the Governments, nay by the very Finance Minister who, in a moment of financial hallucination actually threw away the very gold that guaranteed the notes issued on the market. The financial policy was sinking into a mire of disorganization, for where laws are defied by the very powers that should enforce them, nothing but abuse can be expected from those who should abide by them. Whilst this decomposition was going on in National finances and in the banking operations, the Government boasted to the world that it had assets sufficient to pay off the National debt with a stroke of the pen; a Minister of Finance in his infatuation boldly stated that he could draw a check at sight for over eighty millions! And here we wish to show the effect of bad example, for just as all the banking pledges were broken, all the gold of the Bank Law scattered, and one law after another violated by the very promulgators of those laws—just so, the banks in a frenzy of dissipation not only squandered their own resources in an unpardonable inflation of private credit, but actually pitched overboard the very funds in gold and paper held in deposit for account of the Government. Not satisfied with this, the banks got into such straits that the two principal banking concerns of the Plate had to appeal to another and still more heinous breach of the Free Banking Law, in the shape of clandestine issues in some quarters, and in irregular grants of further issues by the Executive in others.

Now we see in this dismal chain of banking abuse and disrespect for law how all the links closely resemble each other. This chain now fetters the country, and the Treasury that once could draw at sight for eighty millions in deposit in the National Bank must now beg from London and Paris a loan, not to found a caisse of conversion, no—a loan to meet its regular obligations on debts here and in Europe. Yes, to such a pass has this situation reduced the country. This London-Paris loan, as we stated, is an unavoidable necessity. As to the effects of the loan on the market, we venture to predict that they will be nil. All the gold of the loan will be needed for the service on the foreign debt, for the National Bank, and for that "balde sin fondo" the Municipality. The effects of the loan have been discounted for the last ten days, and whatever fall ensues must be short-lived, owing to the very speculation that has been selling millions short for the end of the month. Meantime, had the loan fallen through, gold would to-day be above 300 and chaos would ensue. That chaos is delayed, not removed; it will hang like a threatening cloud over the country until a radical reform be carried out in the free banks and general financial management of the nation and of the provinces. The loan affords the Government breathing-time for six months—not longer, if the present causes of dissolution are not eradicated by an energetic policy.

LONDON LETTER.

A SATURDAY'S READ.

(From our Own Correspondent)

May 10th.

A morning at the Club on a Saturday is usually spent in transcribing articles on "Argentine Finance"; but that subject is now neglected by the leading financial papers, and as for the meetings of Argentine Railway Companies, are they not chronicled in the S. A. I. which you have always with you? And are you not inclined to think that the garrulousness of railway chairmen on the paper currency is not, if possible, more wearisome than the academic chatter of financial authorities? The best practical comments that I see upon the crisis in Buenos Ayres are that Barings are said to be negotiating a new Argentine loan for four millions sterling; Argentine securities fluctuate little in the London market, and merely move up and down with the premium on gold; and that amongst the reasons for anticipating a tighter feeling in the discount market is the expectation that gold will be wanted for exportation to "South America." The telegram in the Times announcing defalcations, not to say swindles, in the Custom House has not created much sensation, for truly it is only when the ass neighs or the horse crows that we start. Fraud is as much a part of the modern commercial system as is the gold and silver it uses as counters. I send enclosed an excerpt from a Paris letter relating to the resignation of M Levêque, who for twelve years has been Deputy Governor of the Credit Foncier. He brings serious charges against the Governor of that institution, M. Christophle. The upshot of it is that about £100,000 per annum has not been passed properly through the books, and has stuck somewhere. It is said, and it is hoped, that instead of its accidentally remaining in the blotting pads of the Governor's private office it has been distributed amongst a needy and deserving class, the gentlemen of the Press, and especially that portion of them who "do" for the financial journals. The subject is to undergo an official investigation. Meanwhile I gladly leave the stale old odour of it and turn to other matters.

The ill-judged petulance, or are we obliged to say the uncontrollable temper of Prince Bismarck, still chafing under what he imagines to be the disgrace of dismissal, continues. It is probably nothing more than the natural irritability of an old man out of active employment and unaccustomed to live without the daily and fresh smell of that popular incense he affected to despise. The Cincinnatus business is all very well, but it is not for the Otto von Bismarcks, to whom harrowing clods of clay is mild sport compared with harrowing human souls and bones. Things must be getting very serious at Fredericksruhe when the Ercisinnige Zeitung ventures to say upon high medical authority that "the symptoms of Prince Bismarck's condition point more towards alcoholism than "morphia habit." We are not obliged to believe the statements of Prince Bismarck's enemies; but friends and foes unite in trusting that so great a man is not coming to an unworthy end.

* * * *

The German Emperor seems inclined to go on with his ideas of social improvement, whilst the English premier, at the Royal Academy dinner, amuses the guests with lively pasquinades on "Grandmotherly government"—meaning socialism. It was all very well, but the term comes with a bad grace from the author of "20 years resolute government" in Ireland; and from one who is known to hold socialistic views himself.

The Speaker of to-day hits on another method of reconciling vulgar views with the inevitable, in some respects better than either Lord Salisbury's jokes or the Emperor's platonic alliance with the toilers. Your very staid, somewhat Philistinist and Gladstonian contemporary has the sagacity to see that "something must be done." He therefore proposes to the Liberal party to 'assimilate' socialism. Some will tell Mr. Wemyss, the editor, that he might as well suggest to the mice to assimilate the cat. As a matter of fact it is the Liberal party which is day by day being rapidly "assimilated" by the socialists; and there is no better outward and passing sign of it than the article in the Speaker, until lately an old fashioned G. O. M. fanatic.

* * * *

The Scots Observer has an article on Scotch Philistinism. To those of us who have never known the Scot except as a minister or merchant or R. M. S. S. Company's chief engineer, or who have never thought of a Scot except as a pious, well-informed, respectable gentleman in black, the new Scottish "Saturday Review's" picture of the "Scots Vandal" is a revelation. "Who does not know the Vandal?" says your Edinburgh contemporary. "He makes steamboats and seaside resorts intolerable with the voice of cheap whisky and the melodies of the low-caste music-hall. He scrawls his obscenities, and what is even worse than his obscenities, his initials upon the walls of every waiting room.....'Arry of Margate and Epping is bad enough with his shrimps and his bottled ale and his cocoa-nut shies and his appeals to Mybel sweet Mybel' to 'come huuder my umbereller.' But he can always keep his feet, and there is a touch of gallantry in his conduct even when he reaches what Mr. Farjeon describes as the bread and cheese and kisses stage of his flirtations with Arriet. But by eleven o'clock of a Saturday night, "Hairry" of Dunoon or Portobello is either a wild beast staggering and blaspheming under a load of fusil-oil which he cannot carry, or his condition is so helpless and so hopeless as to be unfit for print. The Scots Vandal, odious as he is, deserves this passing glance. He occasionally obtains it from the Scots Philistine who makes broad his phylacteries and admits that "but for the Grace of God": there goes himself.... At least the Scots Philistine is but the Scots Vandal writ respectable, fond not of drink but of money, a pillar of his church, a philanthropist, the President of a Branch Home Rule Association, but still a Vandal at heart hating the beautiful, loving the vulgar, impervious to ideas..... It is as perilous for a nation as for an individual to shut itself up in the hot-house of self conceit and decline to breathe the air of the outer world and of other ideas than its own. Besides, whoever teaches the people of Scotland that they are superior to their fellow-subjects on the other side of the Tweed is the worst of demagogues. England has many things to learn from Scotland. But Scotland has many things to learn from England—as in manners, for example, and in the art of human intercourse. Scottish Philistinism in its latest and worst forms means the protection and perpetuation of high cheek bones; the high cheek bones of literature and painting, of shrieking Radicalism in politics, of jealous narrowness in theological thought, of weary dreariness in religious life, of self-satisfied vulgarity in social standards....."

You, of course, understand what all this means. The Scotch Tories are infuriate at prevailing Scotch meetings in London against the Union and the Kirk, such as I described in a late letter as taking place in the club room of the National Liberal Club.

THE ENGLISH LITERARY SOCIETY

When, with the punctuality of the service, Admiral Grant stepped upon the platform at the English Literary Society's Rooms on Wednesday evening last, he was welcomed by the largest audience ever assembled in this city on a similar occasion. The lecture hall was crowded to its utmost capacity, as were the ante-rooms and outside passages—a clear proof of the great interest that had been taken in the event. The Director of Entertainments, Mr. F. Algernon Williams, who doubles that office with the more honourable if less onerous position of Vice President of the Society, is evidently the right man in the right place. He not only searches out the available resident talent of Buenos Ayres, but keeps a keen eye upon distinguished visitors from abroad. On the arrival of Admiral Grant in Montevideo, Mr. Williams at once communicated with him and it is to this gentleman's promptitude and activity that the members owe the memorable lecture of Wednesday. That it was memorable there can be no manner of doubt; from first to last the lecturer never lost his grip on the audience, who followed his every utterance with watchful attention. The subject chosen "The Indian Mutiny" is capable of many modes of treatment, the philosophical, the historical, the dramatic, the episodical. Admiral Grant, with a rare intuition, chose the last-named, which exactly suited his manly, straightforward style. Speaking entirely without notes and in a clear resonant voice, the Admiral gave a history of his participation in the mighty events which some 30 odd years since touched the sympathies of the world, from the time when, in the "Pearl," he was called from the China Station to the moment of his well merited promotion for services in the field. It must not for a moment be supposed that the gallant officer obtruded his personality on his audience; far otherwise; if there were any fault in his lecture, it was that he did not sufficiently explain his own position. As the lecture progressed, incident followed incident and anecdote succeeded anecdote; there was not a superfluous word in the narrative and we are really unable to say whether his facility (and felicity) of expression or his marvellously retentive memory was the more admiral.

Admiral Grant observed that there was little danger of a recurrence of the direful mutiny, the best assurance of future security being that India is now rapidly becoming Christianised.

After numerous characteristic stories redounding to the credit of the British Seaman, the lecturer rapidly yet skilfully passed to the consideration of the effort which will shortly be made to establish a Sailor's Home in this Port and made a most earnest appeal on its behalf. He then resumed his seat amidst the hearty and long-continued applause of his audience.

The Bishop of the Falkland Islands thanked Admiral Grant not only for his admirable lecture but also for what he had done in the River Plate. Although saddened at various parts of the lecture by the narration of fights with lethal weapons, he considered that the British and the faithful natives engaged in stamping out the mutiny had only done their duty. In passing a sincere eulogy on their conduct, he observed that it was to such men as these that England owed her proud preeminence.

The President of the Society, the Revd. J. H. Gybbon Spilsbury, who occupied the Chair, having, in the name of the Society, warmly thanked the Admiral for his lecture, the latter briefly replied and the proceedings terminated.

NEWS FROM EUROPE.

TRAGEDY IN KENTISH TOWN.

A BARMAID SHOT DEAD.

ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

SOCIALISM IN LONDON.

KAISER'S POLICY OF PEACE.

BISMARCK'S CLEVER MOT—HIS TITLE.

A News Agency reports:—About 20 minutes to one this afternoon a tragedy took place at Clarence road, Kentish Town. The daughter of Mr. Collier, proprietor of the Victory Tavern—a young woman who had been separated from her husband—was inquired for over the bar by a gentleman, who is said to be named Harding, living at Haverstock-hill, and who had been seen loitering about during the morning. The young woman on entering the bar told the man that she desired to have nothing more to do with him, and he there upon drew a revolver and shot her dead, the bullet penetrating her neck. The murderer was arrested and taken to the Albany-street Police-station shortly after committing the crime. He had in the meantime attempted to commit suicide by the same means, but the injuries he had inflicted on himself do not appear to have been serious. Henry Webber, of Clarence-road, picked up the revolver with which the deed was committed in a garden, and handed it to Police-constable Coomber, 15 Y. R. It was a five-chambered revolver, and all the chambers had been discharged.

The same Agency, in a later despatch, says:—The circumstances of the tragedy are particularly painful. Thomas Harding, the murderer, is the son of Mr. Harding, a vestryman of St. Pancras, and builder, of Haverstock-hill. It appears that Thomas Harding is a married man, but separated from his wife. The deceased, Florence Verney, aged 25, is the wife of a Mr. Walter Verney, from whom she has been separated for some time. The murdered woman and her assailant appear to have been on intimate terms with one another, but owing to some difference which had arisen, Mrs. Verney wished to sever any connection with Harding. This morning he was seen loitering about the house—the Victory Tavern, Clarence-road, Kentish Town. At the time mentioned he entered the bar and asked for Mrs Verney, who came from the kitchen and informed him she required nothing more to do with him. He, however, subsequently went into the kitchen, where he asked the deceased to accompany him for a walk. She declined, and he remarked, "If you don't come out, I will shoot you and myself too." They then ascended the stairs together, and when at the top he placed his arm round her neck and fired twice. Mrs Verney exclaimed, "Oh, my God", and fell. The murderer then rushed into the bar parlor, and, without any exclamation, shot himself. He lay on the floor for some minutes, and then rose and left the house, taking, it is said, a cab to facilitate his escape. He was, however, captured and taken to Albany-street Police station. Dr. Beeton, of Kentish-town-road, was summoned to the scene, and examined the body of Mrs. Verney, whom he pronounced to be dead. One bullet had penetrated the left jaw at right angles, and the other had entered the brain from behind the left ear. The body lies where it fell. The bullet which Harding fired at himself was found on the floor, having apparently struck the plaster of the wall over the mantlepiece and rebounded near the door on the opposite side of the room. It was not bloodstained, but bore the dust of plaster. Great excitement prevails in the neighborhood, as the youn woman, who was very prepossessing in appearance and manner, was well-known and generally respected, and the demented appearance and extrordinary behavior of the father in his grief create a profound sensation.

There is apparently little doubt that the crime was premeditated, and that the young woman struggled with her assassin, but had to give way to force of strength on the part of her assailant. She probably attempted to clutch the revolver before it was fired, as the left hand was wounded by the bullet. The man was taken in charge by Detective Inspector Bannister, of the S Divison, and Detective Inspector Miller, of the Y Division, and was formally charged at Albany-street with the murder of Mrs. Verney, and subsequently removed to Marylebone Police-court, where he will appear before the Magistrate. Harding was followed into the bar parlour by Mrs. Collier, the deceased's mother, and she states that when he entered the room he turned his face towards the door and raising the revolver to his head fired The shot, however, apparently missed and struck the wall about nine feet from the floor, rebounding from there towards the door. It is understood that the Accused, who is well-known in the neighbourhood and has served behind the bar of Victory Tavern, has several children, while the Deceased leaves two little girls.

The leaders of the Socialists are, the Morning Post says, about to make a new and ambitious departure. It is intended to test a number of metropolitan seats at the General Election, and to offer themselves for election to the London County Council for almost every division. London is thus likely to be provided with a new and a hitherto untested element in public opinion, and it is as well thus early to take notice of the fact, and form a due estimate of its importance and significance, both in party and in national politics. Recent events have somewhat opened the eyes of the average London elector. He can no longer afford to dismiss Socialism as a mere factor to be ignored—an academic theory in politics with which he is not called upon to reckon seriously. He knows now, from practical experience, something about its aims and methods, and something, too, of the results which might be expected from even its partial success. And also this knowledge is producing an effect. People have been shocked at the successive developments of the policy of the labour party as declared by its self appointed leaders. Not only "the bloated capitalist" against whom that policy is nominally directed but the small investor, the ratepayer, the merchant, the honest working-man—all these have found their independence challenged, and their interests assailed by the arrogant dictation of an insignificant minority. It is, therefore, no surprise that the official Gladstonites of Battersea should be opposing Mr. Burns, and there will be less reason for surprise if in other constituencies an equally chilling and discouraging reception is given to Socialist candidates. At the same time the dangers of the position must not be overlooked, in face of the energy displayed on the other side. London Conservatives are only asked to hold their own, and considering the heterogeneous character of the forces opposed to them, this should not prove a task too difficult to accomplish. The coming election in North St. Pancras will give Conservatives and Liberal Unionists an opportunity of showing that past success has not dulled their energy.

The Post of Berlin hears that the report of an interview which Count Schouvaloff, the Russian Ambassador here, had with the German Emperor soon after the resignation of Prince Bismarck had a most favourable effect on the Czar, completely dispelling any apprehension he may have felt in connection with the retirement of the Chancellor. Or in other words, the Times Correspondent says, the German Emperor assured Count Schouvaloff that his foreign policy would continue to be one of peace and non-interference with other nations.

Rumour continues to be busy with the causes which led to Prince Bismarck's resignation. One clever 'mot' is attributed, rightly or not, to Prince Bismarck. "The Emperor," he is said to have remarked yesterday, "has indulged in a curious "chasé-croisé" by making his best General Chancellor and his Chancellor a General." Another story now going the round is that the parting interview between Emperor and Prince altogether lacked the element of sentiment which would have been natural enough on the occasion; and that it was even characterised by a display of feeling of a different kind. The immediate occasion of this tart passage of arms was the decided refusal of Prince Bismarck to accept the title of Duke of Lauenburg, and the equal determination of the Emperor to regard his public bestowal of the honour as irrevocable. At last it was agreed that the Prince would retain his new rank, yet continue to be known by the name which he made historical. As a matter of fact the Reichsanzeiger, or Official Gazette, only refers to the Chancellor as Furst von Bismarck when describing the incidents of his birthday celebration at Friedrichsruhe. It looks, indeed, as though the dual title had been conferred on the Chancellor only to be discarded or ignored.

THE NEW RIVER.

SALE OF A KING'S SHARE.

London, May 22nd.

Mr. Bousfield (Edwin Fox & Bousfield) submitted to auction, this afternoon, at the Mart, Tokenhouse-yard, "a King's Freehold Share" in the New River. Never before, during three centuries, had a King's undivided share been offered for sale, and the sale naturally drew together a very large number of gentlemen. This share came into the market through the death of the late owner. The only guide to the value of the share was furnished by the sale in July last of an entire Adventurers' Share, which realised £122,000. "The only difference," said the book of particulars, between an Adventurers' and a King's Share, "is that the freeholders of shares in the King's moiety are relieved from all trouble, labor, responsibility and anxiety of management. . . Thus it is now that the holders of a 'King's Share' enjoy their happy and untrammelled privilege—occupying the proud position King James secured for himself of profiting by the labor of others." The history of the New River is well-known, how it was cut by Sir Hugh Myddelton, how the concern was divided into seventy-two shares, of which thirty-six were taken by James I.; how the second Sir Hugh purchased the Royal Shares from Charles I. for an annuity of £500, which in the form of "The King's Clogg," is still paid. The profit realised from the shares has increased of late years in the most remarkable manner. In 1858 each share produced £1340, and in 1889 £2600 per share was realised; while occasionally a bonus of over £1000 per share is declared. In twenty years' time the company come into possession of the Myddelton-square Estate, which is now covered with houses, and occupies about fifty acres. This fact, coupled with the enormous yearly increase in the value of the shares, naturally excited much interest. Mr. Bousfield began in a nonchalant manner with:—"Now, gentlemen, for the King's Share in the New River. We'll take the particulars as read." Then followed a conference with the agents and clerks in a whisper, and, after a preliminary "Ahem," the opening remarks were continued. The firm had made a special study of the New River Shares, but never before had a King's undivided share been offered to auction. Here came in a reference to the sale of the Aventurer's Share in July for 122,800*l*. But the King's Share differed from that, and there must be no mistake about the matter. Brief reference was made to the sale of the King's Shares to Hugh Myddleton's son for 500*l*. a year. "The cause of this sale," said Mr. Bousfield, "was that one of the Charleses had a lady to provide for or what not—;" but he did not proceed further because laughter stopped him. Mr. Bousfield took advantage of this to beg the gentlemen about the door to come forward, there was plenty of room in the front. Proceeding with the difference between the holders of the two classes, it was pointed out that the Adventurers had to manage the concern, when, of course, they drew a certain allowance for doing so, and probably were supplied with luncheon, and the New River water to drink (laughter). The King's shareholders, however, had no trouble, no labour, in the matter. They sat down where they liked, content to know that their colleagues, holding the Adventurers' shares, did all the necessary work to ensure the King's holders of shares getting their legitimate profits. The returns were fully well known, and the only thing remaining was to get the first bid. What is your price, gentlemen. No response. The lot could be cut up into the smallest fragments; his firm could sell as many eights as they could get, and the share could be made into 120ths. Did they imagine that the fees from the Adventurers Share were worth anything, if so, probably they would come to 300*l*. a year, and at ten years that would be 3,000*l*., if they took that much less than what they got for the share in July, then they must accept it, even if they were not satisfied. One present asked "Is there any reserve?" To which Mr. Bousfield responded "You offer me 125,000*l*., and you will see whether there is any reserve." Yet no one made a bid. Shall I say 100,000*l*. to begin with? The answer was a bid at 80,000*l*. "At 80,000*l*.," said Mr. Bousfield. "I'm going to leave it to you." Then followed very slowly 85,000*l*. "If there is one lingering thought in your minds, gentlemen, to lead you to believe that this share is worth less than Consols, pray dismiss it from your mind, because it is infinitely superior." Still no advance was made. The magnificent estate in Islington of 50 acres was more and more dwelt upon, with a wondrous diffidence as to naming the exact additional value of the shares. Around the Mart the land was worth 2,500,000*l*. an acre; he did not say the 50 acres in Islington were worth as much; but their real value was enormous. Still no bid in advance.—Were they afraid of the County Council taking away the property? There was no need for any alarm, because if they wanted the water they must get it on equitable terms, which had been the mainstay and glory of England for centuries. The sum of £90,000 was bid, then slowly £91,000. "I await your pleasure" (this in a whisper); £92,000. "I'll take £500, if you please;" £92,500. "Thank you." A few moments more then £93,000, was bid, followed by £93,500 and £94,000. Then said Mr. B. "Once. Twice." £94,500. "Thanks. That's against you," indicating a gentleman by a nod. £95,000. I'll take £100." £95,100 "Thank you. I apologise. I don't know why I should be thankful. You ought to be thankful to me. Now the bidding is open. Why are you not so eager as you were in July? Then I could not take the biddings fast enough, £95,000 Are you all done; really all done. Well! £95,100 once; 95,100 twice, the last time, £95,100. I con ratulate you." To the gentleman who bought—the hammer fell; and the share became the property of a gentleman, or a company, or a society not made known.

Railway Items.

The Western Railway has not been delivered yet. There is no truth in the rumors of serious difficulties having cropped up. We understand that the purchasers desire the line and appurtenances to be delivered prior to the signing of the deeds, and the La Plata Government wish the deeds to be signed first and the delivering to be made afterwards. The whole difficulty, therefore, is one of form and will soon be settled.

The Board of Public Works have reported favorably on the application filed by Mr. John Temperley for 6 months' extension of time to sign the contract for the construction of a railway from this city, across the Parana, to San Roque in Corrientes.

The Engineers' Department have approved the plans of the Catamarca Station and the estimates of the work to be done on that extension.

The cost of inspection of the guaranteed railway amounts now to 5,000 dollars per month.

Dr. Arauz, in a report to the Minister, states that, before settling the dispute between the Central Argentine and Messrs. John G. Meiggs, Son and Co. in reference to the crossings of the latter's concessions (the Temple concession—Rosario to the Cordoba frontier), the Central Argentine Board should be consulted.

The Finance Office has another little bill to pay on account of the half yearly service now due on the Central Northern Extension loan; the amount is £39,143. The service is paid directly by Messrs. Lucas, Gonzalez & Co., who recover from the Government.

We clip the following items from the Rio News, received by the last mail:—

"Decree No. 419 of May 23rd last declares lapsed the concessions granted to the Minas and Rio railway for a branch to Campanha and an extension to navigable waters on the Rio das Velhas.

"The meeting of the shareholders of the Leopoldina company to consider the proposed fusion with the Macahe and Campos railway and the purchase of the Docas D. Pedro II. company, is called for the 6th.

"A decree of the governor of Rio de Janeiro dated on the 19th ultimo grants an interest guarantee of six per cent for thirty-five years on a maximum of 30,000 per kilometre to the proposed railway from Nictheroy to the new city of Theresopolis. The concession is for seventy years.

"At the meeting of the shareholder of the Sapuchay railway held on the 28th ult. it was decided to pay 2$ per share for the first half and 3$ for the second half of the current year and 3$ per share every succeeding half-year, during the construction of the road. Mr. Bernard Byrne was elected a director in the place of Sr. Vieira Souto, resigned.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

That wretched loan was again declared done yesterday. Much good may it do everybody; but if it were to bring gold back to par (which it won't) it would barely compensate for the nuisance it has been for months past.

The cat is at length out of the bag! According to cablegrams in another column Germany has given England a free hand in Eastern Africa, but on condition that Heligoland, that happy little Isle in the North Sea, should be hauded over to her. This news requies confirmation, as it scarcely tallies with Lord Salisbury's previous foreign policy, nor does it seem consistent wits English traditions.

At the betting-houses last night, the principal business done was on in the Premio Recompensa. The following "remate" is a fair sample:—Camors 2, Ec. Bolivar 50, Mariscal 7, Diputado 45, Sovereign 16, Ec. San Martin 20, Boqueron 10, Kildare 35 and Asteroide 22; total 207.

The Senate again fought shy of the Clandestine Shinplaster business. The Committee did not report. It is believed that the honourable Committee-men have their patriotic reasons for not doing so.

Dr. Saens Peña, the new Minister of Foreign Affairs, has arrived. We welcome H. E. to home and office.

The news from Entre Rios yesterday was all about warlike preparations, gunboats, Remingtons, "villainous saltpetre" and cold steel in all forms. Some people, including the Finance Minister, when interviewed by our reporter last night say there is nothing in it at all.

Awful news from Patagones. We sobbed for an hour yesterday on learning that the office of our deeply esteemed and independent colleague El Independiente of Patagones, had been sacked and "pied". Such was the fate of its life's early promise. It was only 6 weeks old, and wagged its pen too freely. All the type was pitched into the Rio Negro.

A Mercedes subscriber tells us that there was six centimetres of ice on the River Lujan last Saturday at sunrise. The oldest inhabitant's grandmother fails to recall such an occurrence to her venerable memory.

It is important that the members and friends of the American Church should know, that, during the repairs that are going on in the main audience room, all the services, on Sundays and weekdays alike, will be held in the lecture room at the rear of the Church, entrance by the East corridor.

The mighty Parana is filling up fast. The news from Rosario yesterday was that, between that aspiring place and that dreary rock Martin Garcia there are no fewer than thirty seven vessels of all sizes aground on sandbanks, old and new. The Wheeler wings are every day more urgently called for, not only here at Buenos Ayres, but at all the principal ports up river.

Shocking news comes from Mar del Plata, viz, that the corpses of the sailors drowned in the wreck of the barque Dinapore a week ago, are still lying unburied there!!! Who is responsible for this horror? It is also said that the poor captain's grave was so shallow that the waves washed out the body, which has been half devoured by birds!! Is this a Christian country or not?

Mr. Martignall, from the Land of Cod (Newfoundland) has asked Government to let him start fishing on think it is time to say something in the matter and produce sober facts. It turns out that the crop that is now coming into the market is much under the production of last year. The Chacareros, who calculate their yield in the shelling, maintain that the deficit will be very heavy. There could be no better proof of this than the high prices that are being paid in this market, in spite of the low prices ruling in Europe. Thus we see that 38 per 100 kilos has been paid for maize delivered in the Central Produce Market: to-day even in spite of the late heavy fall in the gold premium as high as $2.80 per 100 kilos is being paid. We must not lose sight of the fact that there are to-day numerous distilleries in the country and they absorb an enormous quantity of maize; the distilleries are keeping up the price of maize, as they seem to fear in those quarters that the supply here will soon run short. These high prices will soon put an end to the export of the grain. As usual when great hopes are formed of River Plate crops, the stern reality always falls short of the fanciful calculations drawn up to impress the country with the mammoth increase of wealth and extraordinary development of the agricultural industry. Moonshine!

From an exporting point of view this country is very near the end of its tether. As usual, the winter dawns with the old threat of stagnation in exports and scarcity of commercial bills, at least in exporting circles. The much vaunted wheat crop which, according to an official document, would extend into the month of October, is at an end. There is no more wheat for export. The export of dry and salted hides is also on the decline, fast approaching the periodical dullness of the wintry stage. The export of maize, on which so many fond expectations were based, is also approaching a close, and very rapidly. Thus the season of the export of produce is defunct; we must fall back on sheepskins and frozen mutton, and some minor staples. In shipping circles, we are already beginning to perceive the effects in the shape of a decline in freights. Thus the winter of our discontent is at hand. Thrice blessed loan! It will help us through till the clip, enabling the market and the country to tide over the dreary time that divides bloom from bloom: we shall be left blooming on the loan alone.

The gold business done at the second hour was under the average, and from the very start it was apparent that the telegram did not influence matters in the slightest; the rate kept stiff at 235 up to the close, but after the ring was over we heard of gold changing hands at 232 and for end of July at 231. Stocks continued dull, though a trifle improved in price. National Bank Shares being done at 174 for cash, showing a rise of four points, and at 178 for end of August, whilst Catalinas opened as high as 39.50 and closed at 38.90. Constructors were not even quoted and Cedulas were very quiet.

The following is a summary of the business effected in stocks during the second ring:—

The great auction of the Port lands, at Funes and Lagos', in Calle San Martin to-day was a decided success, considering the great tightness of money and the upset condition of the market. Of the six blocks offered for sale four were disposed of at prices ranging between $15.34 and twenty-one dollars gold per square metre, giving an average of $16.50 m/n per square metre and a total of, more or less, half a million gold dollars. The blocks sold are in front of Docks No. 1, between the continuation of Calles Independencia and Comercio, and the buyers are Messrs. E. Mallere (for himself and a syndicate of wholesale almaceneros), Manuel Guerria, Antonio Sorta Maria, Domingo Francioni, Juan Profumo, Hasenclever and Co., Escalada, Garcia, Gonzalez and Cia, Ricardo Lezica, Jose P. Guerrico, Wolff, Bustamente, J. Baggett, Rojas, Alcardini, Darcux, A. Suchon and Alexander Pasada.

Mr. M. Fortune has laid before Government, for approval, the statutes of the Compañia Liverpool y Argentina de Fideicomisos e Inversiones, Ld., formed in England with a capital of £30,000 sterling, to carry on financial enterprise.

We hear that our old friend Mr. Carlos Lix Klett has retired from the staff of our colleague La Argentina. Our colleague loses a valuable contingent in Mr Lix Klett.

With reference to the British iron barque "Dinapore", at rander off the coast near Bahia Blanca, the reports brought back by the salvage steamer sent down by Mr. Dorman, Lloyd's agent, being unsatisfactory, Admiral Grant and Mr. Dorman have gone down to the wreck with the view of ascertaining the real chances of saving the cargo, or a part of it, either by sea or land.

One of our reporters interviewed the Finance Minister this evening in order to obtain details with reference to the loan. Dr. Garcia informed him that the bases for carrying out this financial operation had been arranged and that he was busily engaged in drawing up the contract in order to submit it to Congress as soon as possible. Interrogated by our reporter with reference to the rumours in circulation regarding Entre-Rios, the Minister replied that the Province in question was quiet and that no fears were entertained that the public peace would be broken there.

The Civil Judge, Dr. Garey, has ordered the embargo placed on the receipts of the Fronton Buenos Aires to be raised. The same judge has placed an embargo on the property of a certain Bank of this city at the request of a broker connected with the establishment in question.

The Finance Minister has fixed 234 as the quotation at which the duties in gold are to be levied.

According to a telegram received from Montevideo to-day, the Cedula bill being about to be promulgated, Baring Bros. have authorized their representative to purchase a large amount of this stock which will be placed on the London market. The s. s. La France leaves the Mount to-night for B. Aires with 350 passengers and general cargo.

The number of ships aground in the Parana between Martin Garcia and Rosario is now estimated at 37 most of them ocean going vessels with full cargoes. The shifting of the sand banks is mainly responsible for this.

An evening colleague announces, that from official sources, they have learned that the loan negotiation is to be finished off to-day and that the bankers here have received orders from England to let their gold reserves fly. How far this information may be relied upon, it is, of course, difficult to say, but one thing is certain, and that is that the gold reserves have not begun to flutter as yet. It is also extremely improbable that the bankers should wish to wreck the market all at once, as their interests would be best consulted in selling gold at the most favorable prices possible. On 'Change, this view is taken of the matter, and it is even said that the greatest reserve is guarded about news from London, in order to allow the Provincial Bank to get rid of its gold to advantage. "Quien sabe?"

Three fires took place between night and morning, the most important being in the great chocolate manufactory in the Calle Piedad 3474, which though insured for 205,000 m/n, only suffered to an extent of 3,000 dollars, thanks to the speedy appearance of the Fire Brigade on the scene; the second fire was in Mr. Bianchi's perfumery, Calle Tucuman, which was also got under without much damage done, the insurance being for 20,000 m/n, divided equally between the National, America, Estrella and Italia companies; the third fire was in a carpentery in the Calle Paraguay 2252, which also happily was got under speedily and at a trifling loss.

We take the following important commercial telegrams from La Argentina:—

London, June 18th—Colonial wool auctions open on 24th inst. with 400,000 bales on offer.

Havre, 18th—R. Plate unwashed wool, 36 o/o yield, to deliver end of month, is down 12 cents, being quoted as 1.55 francs per kilo.

Antwerp, 18th—Wool in this market is down 35 cents. the kilo. R. Plate combed, German type, to deliver at end of month, at 5.17½ francs the kilo.

London, 18th—National B 7 o/o Cedulas have been quoted to-day at 47 o/o, shewing an advance of 1 o/o.

Paris, 18th—Argentine 1886 loan, 6 o/o, has advanced 5 francs, being quoted at 480 francs.

London, 18th—Argentine 3½ o/o loan has improved ½ o/o to 65 o/o. Sterling Bonds 4½ o/o and 1886 5 o/o loan are quoted firm at 102 o/o and 94 o/o respectively.

Rio, 18th—Exchange on London at 90 days has advanced ¼d., being quoted at 21¼d. per mil reis paper. Sovereigns are quoted at 11,300 reis.

Advices from the Mount report two ocean-going vessels aground on the Banco Ingles. The banks will re-open discounts to-morrow, which, it is expected, will relieve the great strain in the market. With regard to the conference of the directors of the National Bank with the Finance Minister, held yesterday, nothing about it has yet been published, and it is supposed to have been in connection with the state of the market and the great fall in shares. The National Bank has received £15,000 sterling from Europe, the result of exchange operations.

Messrs. Funes & Lagos sold yesterday a large number of animals, among others a Norfolk Punch colt for 2400 m/n, another for 1200 m/n and a filly for 920 m/n. The total of the sales amounted to 12,000 m/n.

The following were the arrivals in the Central Produce Market:—

Waggons entered, 39, containing:

	Kilos
1544 bags of maize	111,250
2392 bags wheat.....	183,390
1 bag hair.....	70
20 cowhides	170
8 bales sheepskins ...	350
	295,230

The French s.s. La France arrived at Montevideo yesterday from Marseilles.

The Italian s.s. Duchessa di Genova arrived at Genoa on 16th inst., having left Montevideo on 26th of May.

Lumber is very high and firm. The stock is ample for all wants, but it is held in a few hands, which dominate the market and have advanced it greatly, even when reckoned on a gold basis.

The steam-lighter Emisira, from Trieste, which grounded on the English Bank, has been towed off by one of the steamers belonging to Mr. Lussich.

Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.

MR WILLIAM ALISON, of Canonbar, N.W.S., writes under date 3rd September, 1889:

"I have gone in for the Wolseley machine shears, and you will be glad to hear that they are doing capital work. I sheared a couple of sheep with the machine shears, after they had been shorn by the old-fashioned shears, and got 36 ozs. from the one and 64 ozs. from the other. These sheep were really creditably shorn by the shears, and I quite believe that, take the average shearing through, I shall save at least ½ lb. of wool on each sheep. The shears are turned out without a cut, and looking most happy and like pictures. One no longer has to peer up and down the shearing floor quietly indulging in bad language, for it is easier for the shearer to do the work well than badly. I feel satisfied that in the course of a few years very little shearing will be done by the ordinary hand shears.

"My shed having 60 machines, and being alongside the railway line, has been very largely visited by squatters and others, and not one but has been greatly delighted with the success. The tallies have reached 115, 104, 100, and so on per day. I believe that, before shearing is over, the whole sixty men will average 100 each. Such an average was quite unheard of under the old system, owing to men being off with sore wrists, hands, etc.

* * * * * * * *

"I have already placed other orders for 40 machines for the Wervalea shed. We had a lot of trouble at first, owing to a defective engine, boilers and cutters. Wolseley is up-to-date, has been very slack in making out sufficient quantities; in fact, the company has lost thousands of pounds through its inability to supply sufficient machines for new orders."

THE TRUE-FIT TRUSS

Possess the following manifest advantages, and are highly recommended by all who use them:

They are most comfortable and easy to wear.
They are totally imperceptible when on.
They have no cumbrous fastenings, and retain their position in any posture.
They are very durable and will last for years.
They may be used in the bath, being impervious to moisture, and are always clean.

"Curative Paste"
BUCHANAN

Colonia (B. O.), May 1890

Gentlemen—
Having recently accepted the Agency for the "Sale of Curative Paste" for this Republic, I have great pleasure in introducing this dip to your notice.

This dip has been found unrivalled by some of the largest Estancieros that have used it for some time past; and this great success has induced the manufacturer to bring it more prominently before the sheep-farming Republic.

As a cure of Scab it is the most effective, and as a preventive the most permanent that has ever been offered to the public. Scab CANNOT EXIST where "CURATIVE PASTE" is used.

As an economiser of time, labour and expense, it is decidedly the best; curings are less frequent, the necessity of extra men is avoided and consequently less expense incurred.

But in addition to this, we claim and can prove that sheep cured with this dip yield a vastly superior quality and greater quantity of wool than those cured with other dips.

These are advantages that a sheep-farmer cannot, and will not, overlook if he wishes to manage his animals profitably.

Try a sample and satisfy yourselves that in recommending "Curative Paste" to be the most effective, the safest and cheapest dip existing we do but claim that which is admitted by all who use it. (Vide testimonial.

Yours truly

Dr. J. Collis Browne's
CHLORODYNE.
THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE

Advice to Invalids—If you wish to obtain quiet refreshing sleep, free from headache, relief from pain and all anguish, to calm and assuage the weary throbbings of protracted disease, to ameliorate the nervous media and regulate the circulating systems of the body, you will provide yourself with that marvellous remedy discovered by D. J. Collis Brown, (late Army Medical Staff), to which he gave the name of CHLORODYNE, and which is admitted by the Profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for Coughs, Consumption, Bronchitis, Asthma.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation, and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, January 5 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russel Street, Bloomsbury, London.
Dear Sir,—We embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly esteemed medicine, Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan; but all over the East. As a remedy for general utility, we must question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are so sorry to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be but ephemeral. We could multiply instances and illustrations of the extraordinary efficacy of Dr. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative that have occurred under our personal observation during many years, in Choleraic Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a deliberate Breach of Faith on the part of the Chemist to prescribe and Patient alike. We are, Sir, faithfully yours, Symes and Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists.

Caution.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. Page Wood stated that Dr J Collis Browne, was undoubtedly the Inventor of Chlorodine; that the story of the defendant Freeman was deliberately untrue, which he regretted to say, had been sworn to.—See "The Times," July 13, '864.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1 1/2d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., and 11s. each. None is genuine without the words "Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne" on the Government stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Caution.—Beware of Piracy and Imitations.

Winter GOODS

Messrs. Gebbie & Co are now showing in their drapery establishment a select assortment of Winter Goods too numerous to mention.

In the Gentlemen's Branch, Scotch and English Tweeds, Serges, Corduroys, etc., etc., which is under the charge of two French cutters.

We are sorry to advise our customers that, owing to the uncertain value of the Dollar, we will be obliged henceforward to sell only for cash.
